

JOHNSON STILL BIG SPOT LIGHT

Albany, I saw a quarter guard in the Congress Hotel today upon which was printed "Hoover of Iowa." President and Mrs. David P. Barrows, of the University of California, were guests at the convention today.

WOOD EXPECTED TO WEAKEN AFTER FIRST

The general impression is that Wood will fall off after the first ballot and the one who will appear between Johnson and Lowden, with the favorite sons and dark horses far in the rear. A newspaper man who had attended many conventions predicted a deadlock that would run through the night.

It will maintain that of the leading candidates Johnson remains the best bet, but don't risk too large a sum on this tip.

The following representatives from California on the national convention committees were elected:

Rules—George I. Conner, president; Pauline Mutual Life Insurance Company, Los Angeles.

Platform—Charles L. Neumiller, chairman; State Board of Prison Directors, Stockton.

Permanent organization—James Ralph, San Francisco.

Platforms and resolutions—John Francis Neelan, San Francisco.

Honorary vice president of the convention from California—Mrs. C. H. McClatchy, Sacramento.

Fire Hose Wanted For Public Schools

The Board of Education last night adopted a resolution appropriating $5000 for the purchase of fire fighting equipment and the making of alterations in school buildings.

The money appropriated will be used chiefly for the purchase of additional fire extinguishers, hose and reels. A further investigation of the condition of the schools is now being made by fire department examiners under orders from Fire Chief Elliott Whitehead.

Laborer Charged As Booze Carrier

Charged with violating the national prohibition act by having liquor in his possession, Julian Androtti, a laborer, was arrested last night at a rooming apartment on the streets by Officers L. Kersch, C. J. Anderson and W. D. Fairweather. Androtti was taken to the city jail. He was taken to San Francisco this morning for hearing.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PLANS PICNIC

BERKELEY, June 8.—The annual picnic of the Sunday school classes of Trinity W. L. Church has been arranged for Saturday at Mosswood Park, Oakland. The children will start from the church at 8:30 o'clock, spending all day at the park.

Mother, Daughter Chopped With Ax, Hover Near Death

Calling for her son Marvin, who was at the Berkeley morgue, the mother of the father's homicidal mania, Mrs. Grace Richards, 1339 Hawthorne terrace, Berkeley, is fighting for her life today at the hospital. In an adjoining room, Miss Genevieve Richards is hovering between life and death, also unaware that her brother has been killed.

Both Mrs. Richards and her daughter are suffering from fractured skulls inflicted by a heavy ax wielded by Robert C. Richards, a fired mining man who ran a truck repair business in the Hawthorne terrace home, killing one member of his family and perhaps fatally injuring two more.

Whereas there is no evidence that Marvin Richards shot his father, it is believed that he was the one who held his father until neighbors arrived on the scene.

The Mrs. Richards and her daughter have a fighting chance for life and nothing more was the statement this morning of Dr. J. W. Peck, the family physician of the Richards.

Both rested easily last night but the outcome of their cases, Dr. Peck declared, will not be known for four or five days.

To the morning, the 23-year-old Marvin Richards, 23 years old, was in a comatose condition caused by the father to brood constantly in the Berkeley branch morgue awaiting the arrival of a brother, Robert Richards, from Spokane. Funeral services will probably be held on Thursday morning.

SLEIN BOY OLDEST

Marvin was the eldest living son of eight boys in the Richards family, an older brother, Arthur, passing away some years ago. Other brothers are Ernest and Leonard of Berkeley (Genevieve Richards of Oakland, Charles Richards, Spokane and Clarence Richards of Stockton). Genevieve, the only daughter, was the eldest of the large family.

Proficient in musical and social life, the Richards family is one of the best known in the North Berkeley region where the elder Richards settled a score of years ago upon coming to this city from Grange Valley. Mrs. Richards is well known as a singer and pianist participating in several of the larger chorals of the Berkeley Orchestra Society, and was also prominent in Eastern Star circles.

That it was Mrs. Richards' love for her husband that inadvertently brought the tragedy upon the family home became known today. Realizing that her husband was losing his mental balance and yet being that he was "harmless," Mrs. Richards rebelled at the suggestions of friends and relatives that he be sent away. On many occasions according to friends of the family, Mrs. Richards arose from her bed at night to walk the streets, her husband aggravated her by his family much concern by his wanderings away from home and on many occasions, neighbors and friends were called to aid in the search for the missing man.

INSANITY DECIDED

The insanity of Richards was tenaciously decided today in a hearing conducted by Superior Judge E. J. McLaughlin, who sat on the bench with Judge George Henkle sitting on the lunacy board at the Emergency hospital, where Richards has been confined since the tragedy. After a number of witnesses had been heard, the hearing was continued until Saturday morning, to further observe Richards and to secure other evidence as to his past mental condition.

The members of the examining board stated today that they are convinced that the man's mind is now unbalanced, but that the proof of his condition at the time of the attack is not sufficient to bear the present condition might have been the result of the excitement under which he labored at the time of the attack.

Richards appeared perfectly willing to talk. He said that there was a dispute in the evening before the tragedy took place between himself and daughter over religious differences. He said that after the dispute he could not sleep and decided that "he only way" to stop the tongue of the others was to oppose him was "to do it with an ax."

SECRET TO MOTHER

But the tragic events of yesterday morning are being kept from the mother and daughter with assurances that both of the boys are "all right." So swiftly did Richards carry out his homicidal plot against his family that neither mother nor daughter knew that he had slain a sleeping Marvin. Awakening from their own slumbers both fought for their lives until nineteen-year-old Leonard Richards, feeling his father held him until neighbors arrived on the scene.

The Mrs. Richards and her daughter have a fighting chance for life and nothing more was the statement this morning of Dr. J. W. Peck, the family physician of the Richards.

Both rested easily last night but the outcome of their cases, Dr. Peck declared, will not be known for four or five days.

POLICE HUNT TWO MISSING WIVES

Search was begun today by the police for two missing women. Mrs. Ida Venturacci, 14 Midway avenue, Richmond, stepped from a Richmond car at Twelfth and Washington streets, Oakland yesterday and has not been seen by her family since. She was employed in a cannery establishment at Twelfth and Wood streets.

Her disappearance was reported by her husband, who is unable to offer any theory that would explain why she so suddenly dropped from sight. He told the police that there had been no family quarrel.

The second missing woman is Mrs. Carrie Jensen, 156 Tehama street, San Francisco. She was reported by her husband, Martin Jensen, who says she left San Francisco for Oakland yesterday morning and expected to return home last night. She is thirty-eight years old.

DAVE OPPOSES WATER PROJECT

The proposed plan of solving the water problem of the Eastbay cities by means of the formation of a public utility district was criticized by Mayor John L. Davis in a statement issued today, announcing his reasons for opposing the project under the public utility act of 1915, which the mayor brands as fundamentally and irreparably wrong.

This said will be told by the mayor tomorrow morning at a meeting at 9 o'clock of the special committee on water and sewerage of the four Eastbay cities named last week at a joint conference of the Water Commission of the Eastbay cities and the Council of Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda on recommendations for the handling of the water situation.

Their recommendations are to be submitted at another joint conference on the following day the two sessions having been called as final meetings on the issue. In this statement, Davis contends that the people of Oakland would have to bear the major portion of the burden of the district, that the formation of such a district would result in a new diversion of government funds to the benefit of the water companies, and that the law fails to clearly define the legislative powers between the community governments involved and the new government.

DEMPSEY DRAFT JURY COMPLETED

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—Maine Dempsey, divorced wife of Jack Dempsey, the world heavyweight champion, will take the stand for the government this afternoon in Dempsey's trial for evading the draft. Assistant United States Attorney Thomas announced.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—Less than two hours were required today to secure the jury that will decide whether Jack Dempsey, premier pugilist of the world, evaded the draft during the world war.

The case against Dempsey was called for trial before Federal Judge M. T. Doelling at 10 o'clock and shortly after noon the jury was in the box ready for the trial to proceed. But twenty talesmen were examined. Of this number three were challenged and five excused for various reasons.

When court resumed at 2 o'clock this afternoon the first big fight in the trial impended. The issue of whether Maxine Gates Dempsey, the heavyweight champion's divorced wife, can testify against him was to be raised.

The prosecution expected to place Maxine on the stand before the day is over, despite the fact that she did not appear in court at the morning session.

The defense was prepared to fight her testimony on the grounds that she was Dempsey's lawful wife despite the contention of the government that her marriage to Dempsey was bigamous and therefore not valid.

Dempsey was in court flanked by his mother and father.

The crowd that fought to gain entrance to the courtroom was the largest in the history of the Federal building.

STRIKER FREED IN BATTERY TRIAL

Not guilty was the verdict of the jury this morning in the case of Paul Pierpont, striking shipyard worker and an alleged leader in the shipyard activities arising out of the shipyard strike. He was tried on a charge of battery in the police court of Judge George Samuel.

The complaining witnesses in the case were Joe Perry, 1082 Third street, and John Noble, 1.3 Chestnut street. They alleged that on the evening of January 28 Pierpont with four other men, attacked them at the corner of Fifth and Linden streets after following them for several blocks.

A pitched battle followed and finally the gang which had attacked the two men fled. Noble and Perry followed Pierpont and captured him in a vacant lot. He was turned over to the police. He was released on $200 bond.

Pierpont claimed that he had no taken part in the attack upon the shipyard workers. He was released this morning by Attorney William McGuire.

Canneries Anxious For Freight Ruling

Local canneries are awaiting with anxiety word from the East whether or not a priority ruling for the shipments just made by the Interstate Commerce Commission is being made effective. Due to the shortage of tinplate locally, fruit packers face a serious shortage of tin cans, which, unless it is remedied by the speeded arrival of large shipments of tinplate, will mean great losses in the fruit packing industry this year. It is said. The high cost of sugar and labor this year is tending toward a small fruit pack, canners say.

"JUST TELL THEM TO CALL ME," SAYS RUSSELL

Declares He Would Not Take All the Money in the World For Good Tanlac Did Him, and Will Tell Anyone About His Case.

"My telephone number is 3115, and if anybody wants to talk to me about the good Tanlac has done me and what I think of it, they have to do so just call me," declared K. C. Russell, 3712 North Ninth street, Tacoma, Wash., a well-known writer.

"Why, sir, bottles of Tanlac not only completely relieved me of all my trouble, but I have gained fifteen pounds in weight by taking it. For three years I had been unable to eat anything I wanted and never have a particle of trouble after taking it. My kidneys do not bother me any more, my nerves are in fine shape, I never have a sign of headache, and I feel like a new man. I had lost my appetite and the rheumatism had left me entirely. I am back on the job to the surprise of all my friends, who want to know what it is that brought me around so quickly, and I am always glad to tell them it was Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold in San Francisco and Oakland by The Owl Drug Company Stores.—Advertisement.

THE AFTER-SMART OF SHAVING IS ALLAYED BY SANTISEPTIC

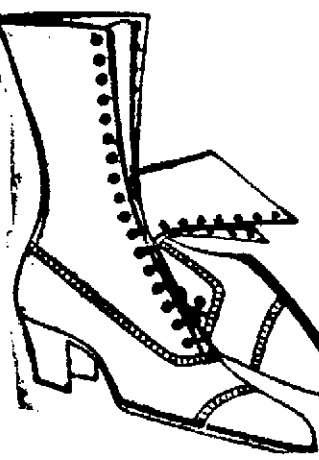

Many men who would like to shave themselves, dread the after-smart caused by using the razor daily on a tender skin. To all such we recommend Santiseptic Lotion; it not only allays the smarting and soreness, but it acts as well as an antiseptic, protecting the face from infection. This sense of security from infection that you enjoy from the use of Santiseptic is especially reassuring. Santiseptic, too, is delightfully cooling and refreshing; it leaves the skin with that soft, velvety finish which bespeaks the healthy, well-groomed man. There is no shave "too close" when Santiseptic is used. The odor of Santiseptic is wholesome and clean. Unlike many preparations, it is not sticky. To use it in your daily shave is to enjoy a real luxury. Santiseptic is easily procured at most drug and department stores. If you cannot secure it, send 50 cents, with dealer's name, to the Hancock Laboratories, Portland, Ore., for a full-size bottle, postpaid.—Advertisement.

OFFICER PIERCE AGAIN ACCUSED OF BEATING MAN

The unsupported testimony of Patrolman P. A. Pierce against that of John Skornpa, a sailor, in Police Judge George Samuels' court this morning resulted in the dismissal of the charge against Skornpa of carrying a concealed weapon. The fact that the testimony of Skornpa was unsupported that Pierce had beaten him over the head with a camera at the time of his arrest Sunday night also caused Judge Samuels to refuse to consider the charges made against Pierce by Skornpa.

Owing to the recent conviction of Pierce in Judge Mortimer Smith's court on a charge of beating up Manuel Franco, and to other legal charges made against the officer, Judge Samuels said that he wanted to hear both sides of the case.

Skornpa said that Pierce searched him and found a revolver, which he said was empty, in the pocket of his uniform. Pierce, he said, then took him to the seventh street lock-up and while in the lock-up beat him over the head with a camera which he, Skornpa, carried in his pocket.

Pierce said he found Skornpa lurking around the front of a Seventh street store. He denied that he beat the sailor.

While on the stand Prosecuting Attorney W. J. Hennessy subjected Pierce to a severe grilling.

Judgment was suspended and Skornpa was turned over to Lieutenant Harold Fosdick of the Goat Island provost guard. Fosdick said that Pierce, while serving in the navy, was assigned to his company. "He was always a trustworthy man," said Fosdick, "and I can highly recommend him in view of his services."

"I have only the word of both men," said Chief Lynch today. "I hate to disbelieve the sailor and I don't like to disbelieve the officer. I am convinced that it wasn't a frame-up against Pierce. It happened at 1:30 o'clock in the morning and Skornpa did not know who Pierce was. The sailor is not injured although he bears only a slight scratch on his head and the camera is dented, which all looks bad for Pierce."

Tea Will Disband Relief Committee

Northwestern Stock Slumps Ten Points

NEW YORK, June 8.—Chicago and Northwestern railway company stock today fell approximately ten points below yesterday's closing figure. ## Clear Our Names, Ask Accused S. F. Officials

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—Bench and bar of San Francisco united today before the grand jury investigation of the sensational charges of C. Vincent Ricciardi that juries have been picked at will through connivance in the offices of the county clerk.

An insistence that Ricciardi not only prove his allegations but place them officially on record that action may be taken to punish offenders is being emphasized by the San Francisco County Bar Association, the district attorney's office and by scores of men prominent in public life.

Clerks in the department of the superior court, seven of whom Ricciardi declares have had knowledge of the jury fixing plans, have issued denials and have branded the court statements as false. Clerk Richard J. Groom, the one mentioned by name as having chosen the twelve men in the Booth case, is likewise insistent that Ricciardi's charges should be dropped. "The story is a lie from beginning to end," says Groom. "I did not help Ricciardi pick the Booth jury and had no knowledge of what was going on. Time will prove the truth of my statements. That is all I have to say."

GROOM CLERK DURING TRIAL OF CATERINI

Groom is acting today as clerk of Judge William J. Connelley's court where Bernardino Caterini is being tried. The case is one of the first involved in the police court graft investigation. Caterini is charged to a severe grilling. Both his wife and daughter and the case is one that was said to have been dismissed at the former hearing.

Usual precautions are being taken to guard the jury box and to see that a fair selection is made. Judge Bensley himself turning the wheel and examining the contents. Groom daily seals the door to the courtroom.

The explanation of Ricciardi of the manner in which he says he picked juries has drawn forth the first public statement from Peter McDonough, bail bond broker. McDonough breaks his silence by a general denial of the whole story and the assertion that anyone who has known of Ricciardi's history as a lawyer in St. Louis, Denver, Indianapolis, Los Angeles and elsewhere will place no credence in the tale.

McDONOUGH DENIES HE TALKED WITH JURORS

"I have discussed with any juror in any of the superior courts of this city and county, any case pending in any department," says McDonough, "and I deny any reputation to come forth and so state."

Until definite charges are placed against Groom, or any others in the county clerk's office, there will be no case to exist after Thursday's passing will be observed with a studio tea, for which Miss Virginia de Fremery is lending her home at 77 Fairmount avenue. Those who have been associated with the overseas relief or who have contributed to it, together with the public, are invited. A feature of the afternoon will be the exhibition and sale of modern handwork contributed by the Snell Alumnae Auxiliary, of which Mrs. A. J. Snyder is leader.

SHAPRO TO HEAD LIONS; BERKELEY WINS CONVENTION

Concluding the spectacular first annual district convention of the International Association of Lions Clubs, Benjamin F. Shapro of Oakland was unanimously re-elected district governor for the Pacific Coast states and Berkeley was named as the convention city for 1931. The program of fun, merriment, fraternal cooperation and patriotic demonstration ended last night with a combined banquet, entertainment and dance in the ivory ballroom of the Hotel Oakland.

A mock drunken fight over the admission of two Chinese laundrymen into the Lions Club, a community singing and sleight-of-hand magic by Dr. Jesse A. Mueller of San Francisco, funny stories and addresses by John H. E. Caine and Walter B. Cole featured the luncheon. Caine was introduced as "Whispering Caine," the man from Washington, D. C., where nobody talks out loud. Cole extended the international convention an invitation to come to Oakland in 1931.

WOMEN ENTERTAINED

What a hostess of the women visitors were taken for an automobile tour of the skyline and grounds of the University of California grounds as guests of the women's committee. Mrs. Francis Woodward, assisted by Mrs. E. L. Hutchins, Mrs. Ben Madison, Mrs. Jesse Robinson, Mrs. William E. Strel, Mrs. William Paley, Mrs. Oliver Krieger, Mrs. F. E. Miller, Mrs. Benjamin Shapro and Mrs. Charles Tate formed the committee.

The banquet in the evening was featured by an interesting entertainment and dancing. Beautiful lighting effects accompanied scenes depicting the foremost attractions of the various lands. The Sacramento was represented by a moonlight scene, with the capitol building in the background. San Jose presented an orchard scene, with Mt. Hamilton in the background. Mrs. Hamilton in the background, with Miss Daisy Wright and several children posed in a song. Berkeley was represented by the Berkeley sextette, with the campanile in the background.

SEAL IS REPRESENTED

A living picture of the great seal of California represented San Francisco and Alameda counties as "California" in the "Golden Gate" Seattle and Everett, combining their exhibits, had snow-covered Mt. Rainier in the background, surrounded by the city of Seattle. Sacramento was represented by a moonlight scene, with the capitol building in the background. ## Smyrna Privileges to Greeks Are Protected

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. LEARNED WIRE TO TRIBUNE. SMYRNA, June 8.—Representatives of the American, British, Italian and French governments have protested to the allied high commissioners at Constantinople the proposed abrogation by Greece of the capitulations or extra-territorial privileges enjoyed by nations of the western powers in the Smyrna district.

The protest declares this action would give such an advantage to neutrals not bound by the peace treaty that business men of the signatory powers would be forced out of Smyrna.

FRENCH ORPHAN THANKS U.S. AID

Seven-year-old Eugene Chavin, war orphan of France, probably will never meet his new found daddy of Oakland.

But today came the first letter from Eugene, addressed to his daddy. It was written in French by Mme. E. Zier Chavin, mother of Eugene, whose father was killed during the second battle of the Marne. Writing for Eugene, Mme. Chavin wrote: "I send you these few words in grateful acknowledgement for all the gifts you have sent me. I know when I grow up I will always remember your kindness. I thank you a thousand times."

"EUGENE CHAVIN, 'Per Mlle. Widow Chavin.' 'Daddy' is the student body of Heald's Business College of Oakland. The 500 pupils attending the institution have been caring for the child."

"Kenneth has already decided," she said, and the little speech so puzzled me that I had to fog my wandering train to pay attention to the tale Alice Holcombe began without further delay.

"YES, I KNOW." "It was about 7:30 o'clock when Mrs. Watkins, a neighbor of Milly's, called me up saying that Milly was dead, and that her sister wanted me to come straight to the house. It seems that they had tried to get me before, but I didn't get in from that little business trip I spoke to you about this afternoon, until just two or three minutes before she called. I went right over—and—"

"Wait a moment!" I put up a protesting hand when the remembrance of the two or three mouthfuls, a poor trifle for even a canary, which I had seen my friend swallow at luncheon. "When did you dine?"

"I didn't dine," she retorted, "but for goodness sake don't speak to me of food!" "I'm not going to—now." I finished the sentence under my breath. "I simply wished to know if you had eaten."

"When I got there, the house seemed filled with people. Milly was lying on a couch, and her mother and sisters were shrieking and moaning over her. They're the kind that cannot seem to control their grief, must make a show of it—I don't mean that as censure—they can't help it probably, but you know what I mean."

"Yes, I know." I have experienced the type to which Milly Stockbridge's relatives belong.

MADGE LISTENS "They rushed at me the moment I got in—don't know I was the oldest friend Milly had—made me look at her face, and then they all looked at me. I told them that she had come to school to luncheon a few days ago, and at that time she seemed to be in good spirits. I hope I'm forgiven for this, but I thought for that matter, I did not see her that day except when she was in good spirits. It was lucky they didn't have you to question."

I silently confirmed her assertion, prayed that I might never be questioned as to that day, listened intently for the rest of my friend's story.

"And then they set up their crying again, and kept exclaiming noisily over and over again. 'Milly never did it herself. She was forced to take it.'"

"Of course, they didn't mention Kenneth's name, but I could tell that it was an awful thing for him to hear just the same. I never saw so colorless and despairing a face on any human being. He was attending to all the little details, answering any questions that were asked him."

"His story was that he came home this afternoon, and after remaining a little while when he was waiting for an errand, and that when he returned he found her lying on the floor before her 5 o'clock tea table and the couch. He said he thought she was breathing when he picked her up, and that he tried several restoratives, thinking she had fainted. Then he tried to get Dr. Irons, but had to go to a neighbor's to telephone, as he found them out of order. What did you say?"

"I didn't say anything," I returned, hoping she had not noticed my involuntary start at her words. But leaning upon my brain was the question—What had put the Stockbridge into a state of such confusion as to deny?

Would Deny State Jobs to Women

SALEM, Ore., June 8.—Ousting of all married women from state positions whose husbands are physically able to provide for their support is the objective aimed for at a proposed conference of state officials and men prominent in labor circles of Oregon. The conference will also see to it that only women and girls are given state positions who are thrown upon their own resources for an existence. A representative of a prominent labor organization has been investigating these conditions at the Capitol recently and reports that as many as twenty women whose husbands are employed at good wages are on the payroll.

A recent effort to present a bill in the state legislature to this effect was unsuccessful because the attorney-general held that it was unconstitutional in that it did deprive married women of the right to work.

It is understood that several of the large women's clubs in Oregon will give their support to the movement. While such a bill is held unconstitutional, the conference will strive to impress upon employers the need of taking into their services first the least fortunate sister of married women who are unable to secure even the most humble employment.

Hints for Baking With Gas

The oven should be heated from 5 to 10 minutes according to the articles to be baked before placing in the oven.

The heat is strongest in a gas oven at its top and when anything is to be browned quickly it is placed on the upper shelf, but where baking should rise first, it should be placed near the center of oven.

Good baking requires proper regulation of the heat. It is best to do some experimenting and thus become fully acquainted with the action of the oven in the gas range you buy.

Wipe out the oven after each baking and leave the door open slightly until all parts are thoroughly cooled. By doing so, you will increase the life of the range and its efficiency.

Remove porcelain broiler pan while baking, to prevent chipping and discoloration.

TEXANS PROTEST RULE BY TROOPS

GALVESTON, Tex., June 8.—With several hundred troops on duty military rule prevailed in Galveston today as a result of Governor W. R. Hobby's action yesterday in ordering Texas national guardsmen here to take charge of the situation growing out of the protracted strike of longshoremen. Several hundred troops had arrived and other units were expected. The city was quiet. Protests against the governor's proclamation placing the city under martial law continued to be made today, and it was said, legal steps to prevent the carrying out of the terms of the proclamation were being taken.

Governor Hobby, in a statement, said the congestion due to the strike necessitated his action.

TRADE UPSTAIRS & SAVE $10

That's Our Slogan, But $15 or $20 Is Usually Your Saving!

Our prices are always the same---we've never held a "sale" in our 10 years of doing business. BUT---get this---our commonsense business methods hold prices ALWAYS LOWER than you'll find them elsewhere.

That's our story---we leave the rest to you. Compare the value for yourself. Come here and find that our day-after-day, regular value prices offer a more sensational day-after day event than the hottest "bargains" elsewhere!

CHICAGO CONVENTION HALL BLAZE OF LIGHT, COLOR

BROOKER'S NAME HELD UP UNTIL AFTER BALLOTING

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE. CHICAGO, June 8.—Here's what the three leading presidential candidates did on the opening day of the convention: Senator Bismarck Johnson arose early, hurriedly through his morning calisthenics and then plunged into conferences with his campaign leaders. General Leonard Wood remained at his headquarters at Fort Sheridan, that part of the United States army which is under his direction. Governor Frank O. Lowden, who had planned to leave for the state capital at Springfield, decided to stay in Chicago and keep his eye on the convention for a time, when he may go "somewhere in Illinois."

"HEAD UP EYES OPEN" HURAM JOHNSON'S PLEA

"Do Not Hide in the Shadow of Privilege," Warns Californian in His Speech at the Pre-Convention Gathering. "If it Be Radical to Be Just American, I Accept Challenge." He Thunders at Men Who Have Attacked Him.

CHICAGO, June 8.—Senator Hiram Johnson put forward last night the argument in favor of his own nomination for President by the Republican National Convention. Before a mass meeting, attended by many delegates, he pleaded for the support of the party in the face of the "head up eyes open" plea.

Johnson's speech was a powerful one, and he received a warm reception from the delegates. He declared that he would not hide in the shadow of privilege, and he accepted the challenge of the radicals.

PROHIBITION UPHOLD.

By its decision yesterday the United States Supreme Court has inflicted the final mortal wound upon the hope that the manufacture and traffic in intoxicating liquors might soon be revived. The court upheld without qualification both the 18th amendment to the federal Constitution and the Volstead act for the enforcement of that amendment. Both the amendment and the enforcement act are declared to be in conformity with the powers delegated to Congress by the Constitution.

This means that the anti-prohibition forces are at the end of their rope so far as defeating the purposes of present laws are concerned. Of course, the "wets" can launch a fight to have the law changed, but the tactics they have pursued for the last year, that is, to nullify the 18th amendment and the Volstead law, are condemned as fruitless.

As to the question of concurrent powers to enforce the prohibition amendment, the Supreme Court holds that this section does not mean joint powers, or conflicting powers. The federal law may be enforced in each State regardless of what laws the State passes and what measures it adopts for the enforcement of prohibition.

The Supreme Court has disposed of a number of cases in its latest opinion. It dissolves injunctions sought and temporarily obtained in some of the States against interference in the liquor business by the federal authority. It has reversed decisions by federal judges in favor of the "wets" and it has sustained the powers delegated by Congress to enforce prohibition. In short, it has swept aside all the arguments and theories and suits opposed to prohibition as prescribed in the 18th amendment. That amendment, the new police ordinance of the Constitution, shall mean just what its framers intended it to mean.

JAPAN AND CHINA.

Japan is having a harder time than she anticipated in bringing China into an agreement for a settlement of the Shantung questions left so sadly unsettled by the Versailles peace conference. China has declined to open negotiations with Japan for a Shantung settlement, giving as her reasons the contention that further diplomatic conversations are unnecessary; that Japan should forthwith turn over to China the former German rights and the more recently seized Japanese powers in Shantung without further ado.

Japan of course wants to make Shantung the basis of a new diplomatic controversy. This is her way, proven to be successful in the past, of wringing further concessions from the Chinese government. She figures that she ought to make a bargain with China in returning the Shantung rights, formerly enjoyed by Germany, which would leave substantial advantages in that district or elsewhere in China in the hands of the Japanese government. Japan has given a definite promise to turn over the German rights, but conformably with the Japanese conscience and moral code is disinclined to do so except at a price.

Officially Japan offers to base her negotiations upon the Versailles treaty, but China waives this aside on the ground that she has never signed the Versailles treaty and that the peace conference did not give her justice in connection with her claim for direct restitution of the former German rights.

It is China's contention that Japan should give up Shantung without any reference whatever to the peace treaty, and the Peking government asserts further that the withdrawal of Japanese troops from the railway zone in the interior is a question entirely unrelated to the port question of Tsing-tao. Japan had promised to withdraw her troops from Shantung when the Chinese railroad police were ready to begin duty and China has served formal notice that they are ready to take over the policing of the railroad zone. Japan, however, keeps her troops in Shantung.

Dr. Wellington Koo, Chinese Minister to the United States, two weeks ago gave out a statement in Paris, where he is now sojourning, in which he used plain words regarding Japan. "We have made this appeal to Japan in the hope that she will not oppose the powerful trend of Chinese opinion," he said, "but will restore without haggling and without baggling the territory which belongs to China. The people of China are overwhelmingly against the Japanese proposal, which would be equivalent to Chinese recognition of the Versailles treaty."

China did not recognize and assent to the peace treaty because it did the immoral and wholly unjust thing of transferring Chinese territory and natural rights of sovereignty to Japan, a foreign country. This is the discreditable thing to which President Wilson, in the name of the United States, gave his assent in order to induce Japan to enter his league of nations.

In opposing Japan on the subject of negotiations regarding Shantung, China will probably find the great powers lined up against her. For these powers, including the United States so long as Mr. Wilson is at the head of the government, desire China to recognize the Versailles pact. From a purely selfish standpoint they are willing to see Japan coerce China into such recognition. Expediency seems to be as dear to the League framers as it ever was to the pre-war diplomats of the old world.

POSTAL WORKERS GET INCREASE.

One of the bills which became a law in the last days of Congress and which the President did not veto was that appropriating $33,000,000 for increase in the pay of postoffice employees. The individual increases made possible by this act are not large, but compared to the usual rate of increasing the compensation of government employees should be ground for considerable satisfaction.

The appropriation is sufficient to meet only the first year of increases under the new wage scale. The second year will require $38,000,000, and the third and each year thereafter $13,000,000 more than at present.

Under the readjustments of salaries made in the new postal bill, letter-carriers and postal clerks are to have their salaries increased from $150 to $250 annually, while supervisory officers will get a raise of $400, providing that no postmasters receiving more than $3000 a year shall have their pay increased.

Clerks at first and second class postoffices and city carriers will be divided into five classes, with those in the first class receiving $1400 annually and $100 added to each class. Substitutes and temporary clerks will receive 60 cents an hour, while special clerks will be paid from $1900 to $2000 annually. Watchmen, messengers and laborers will be divided into two classes, the first receiving $1350 and the second $1450. Division superintendents in the postal mail service will receive $4200 annually, assistant superintendents $3200, chief clerks $3000, and assistant chief clerks $2500.

The federal postal service has always been a poorly paid department of the government. Considering the trustworthiness of the men engaged in it, the demand for accuracy, and the large contract which the employees maintain with the public, it has never been easy to understand why Congress and the government have not raised the pay of the carriers and clerks before this. The postal employees deserve well of the public because of their reliability and generally satisfactory performance of their duties.

The public will be pleased at the government's recognition of the postal employees in granting an increase of pay that has been amply earned, and which at the increased figure is no more than a living wage.

"How much does the President know of the swiftly moving campaigns?" asks a Washington correspondent, and then proceeds with a discourse the essence of which is that he doesn't know very much. The listless Democratic attitude is attributed to the seclusion of the chief executive. He rides out occasionally, but Mrs. Wilson sits beside him "tensely." The decision to remain in Washington during the summer is taken to confirm the seriousness of the President's illness. And there is noted lack of sympathy that is almost painful. However the President may have been out of accord with the majority sentiment, this absence of sympathetic manifestation is not an edifying national trait. The greater seriousness, however, is that an administration charged with the government of a great nation is left something worse than headless in the situation.

The ill health of Senator Boies Penrose is of national moment. Those who would like to see him take the helm are anxious, and not less so are those who think their ends will be more readily reached if his dominating personality fails to figure in the Republican convention. The chances now seem to be that he will not be present in person at Chicago. An account has him sitting in his home in Philadelphia, "a sick old, bachelor descendant of all that is implied by an old Philadelphia family." There is a doubt whether he will go to Chicago, but certainly he will not be on the floor "when the Johnson and Borah hurricanes are blowing."

A Boston newspaper observes that New England is quitting the production of meat, potatoes, milk and butter, but that Connecticut will raise more genuine Havana tobacco this year than ever. It omits to give an estimate of this year's crop of wooden outmugs. This falling off in agriculture is no joking matter, however, but it would be a dire subject or situation that would not have a humorous side to an American. The sense of humor in the Yankee is as likely to strike in as out.

NOTES and COMMENT

"Park directors object to rubbish left on park lawns." Objection sustained. It is entirely well taken, not only as to park lawns, but also to railway stations, sidewalks, streets and public places generally. The indifference in this regard is deplorable. Something might be done in the schools to correct it, though it is just as observable among grown-ups as among children.

The senatorial inquiry into pre-convention expenses of candidates is to be projected to include pre-election expenses, not only of congressional candidates, but of congressional candidates. If those concerned are not more economical as a consequence they are at least likely to be more careful.

Senator Moses' effort to help General Wood, for whom he is understood to be a manager, by a cry of "stand over," received such an emphatic turn-down by Wood himself that it amounts to another disavowal in the house of the general.

Despatch announces that 10,000 tons more of sugar were shipped from Hawaii in May than in April, and that a traction over 15 cents a pound was received for it, which is somewhere near four times a former price, but apparently to correct an error, the price here is to be any lower. No dispatch turns on the ground by referring to a year of drought that prevails. As to food prices, the necessity seems to be felt of stating things with care.

Secretary McAdoo has paid San Francisco a flying visit. There was much speculation and some prying on the part of newspapermen as to his errand, but no result has been obtained. It may have been that he came to look the burlesque over, to see about how much of a jump it is going to be in a couple of weeks.

Sunday's news told of New York's population being 5,621,151, and Monday's news told of Gotham having "a million loafers." Something of a reminder of Carlyle's saying that "London contained 4,000,000 persons, mostly fools."

It is noticeable that the sub-committee on convention arrangements has appointed eight chaplains. Perhaps it is pertaining to those who count on a decorous effort to put a Republican candidate for President in nomination, foreshadowing unrighteous turbulence and providing against it.

The decision to put Hoover in the running without an accompaniment of oratory is a sort of presumption that the convention will be fed up and will look with favor on the aspirant who spares them. It may be presuming too much.

The vice-presidency is certainly beinguffed about. Nobody wants it and the man who has it speaks lightly of it and would not accept it again. Yet recalling the instances of Chester A. Arthur and Theodore Roosevelt, it would seem that the vice-presidency, at least as a possible stepping-stone, is worth taking a chance for.

The President's action or non-action in permitting twelve bills to lapse because they were not got up to him with plenty of time for consideration is disappointing to California. The failure of the water power bill especially will hit this state.

How champions love rural life is clearly demonstrated by the instance of Jess Willard loves the cows and chickens, writes an admirer, describing his home life. Oh, Jim Corbett, John L. Sullivan, Bob Fitzsimmons, Jack Johnson and all the rest of 'em were the same way, only they cared nothing for cows."

Forty large studios in Los Angeles are doing a business estimated at $150,000,000 yearly and the magnitude of the traffic handled to and from the studios by the railroad company gives us an idea of the expansion of this wonderful commercial asset.—Bakersfield California.

Night Watchman Archie Warner of Tullock, who has been on trial for shooting Harry Haines, a passenger in an auto which the officer attempted to stop for speeding, was found guilty Wednesday of a charge of simple assault and fined $125. The defense claims that the boy was not speeding and that Warner overstepped his authority and maliciously shot young Haines. The boy, who was now recovered from his wounds, is being former Tullock Commissioner B. C. Gochler and Warner for $10,000 damages. Hanford Sentinel.

A few years ago there was a wide-spread movement in opposition to the use of the Jews, the Irish, the Germans, and even the much-closed mother-in-law. About the same time there was a movement against making light of matrimony. What has become of this movement? A large percentage of the jokes on the modern vaudeville stage are aimed directly at the marriage ties, which they treat lightly, as if divorce were a natural consequence of marriage. Without pretending to know much about the subject we have a suspicion that suggestions of this character bring marriage into disrepute. Bakersfield California.

There is still room in the United States for immigrants, if they are of the right sort. We are not looking for any people of any race or nationality who want to overthrow American institutions as soon as they get here.—Stockton Independent.

The Well-Known Orchestra Opens the Convention With That Stirring Masterpiece, entitled: "There'll Be a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight!"

LOST--ONE DINOSAUR

Stealing a dinosaur sounds about as feasible as walking off with the Brooklyn bridge, but despatches from Buenos Aires tell of an expedition recently sent to Patagonia to study a mammoth specimen, discovered a year ago, and found it missing.

"Today we must go to Africa for the biggest game, but there was a time the dim distant past when America produced animals larger than any now living," says a comic communication to the National Geographic Society by Barnum Brown.

"The animals are dinosaurs: for the moment we will call them lizards—not the creeping, crawling kind, but huge reptiles that stalked upright through the jungles, rivaling in size the elephant, the hippopotamus, and the rhinoceros."

"In the marshes of prehistoric times dwelt a host of reptiles, some large, some small, and of various forms, flesh-eaters, and herb-eaters, but all sharing certain characters in common and known as dinosaurs. Not any were closely related to any living reptile, yet they had some characters common to the lizards, crocodiles and birds."

"Of the kinds characteristic of the period one species, an herb-eater named Trachodon, was more than 50 feet long and about 15 feet high when standing erect. Its head, with broadly expanded mouth, resembles that of a duck, but back of the beak there are more than two thousand small teeth, disposed in many vertical rows, each containing several individual teeth, the new ones coming up from below as the old ones wore out."

"The long hind feet terminated in three large hoofed toes, the shorter, slender front feet were partly webbed. A long, thin, slender tail acted as a powerful swimming organ, and the body was covered with rough tuberculate skin. Having no means of defense, it lived chiefly in the water, where it was free from attacks of the flesh-eaters."

"With the 'duck-billed' Trachodon there were other large closely related forms inhabiting the water. Saurolophus was similar in build, but characterized by a large crest extending above the skull, and pelvic bones that were developed for attachment of powerful tail muscles."

"Along the shores lived Ornithomimus, bird mimic, as the name implies, one of the most remarkable of the dinosaurs. A skeleton found last year shows it to have been a toothless creature, the jaws sheathed like the beak of a bird."

"On land there were hoofed quadrupedal herbivorous kinds, some, like Monoclonius, having an 'immense' skull, six feet in length, with three horns, a short one over each eye and a longer one above the nose. The jaws terminated in a sharp clipping beak, like that of a turtle, and further back in the mouth there were rows of double-rooted teeth. The back of the skull was developed into a broad shield, with scalloped border, extending over the neck."

"Strangest of all was the herbivorous Ankylosaurus, a stocky, short-legged, big-bodied creature, completely encased in armor. Dermal plates covered the skull, followed by rings of plates over the neck and hips. Its tail terminated in a huge club, and the belly was covered by a pliable mosaic of small, close-set plates. It was further protected by a movable plate that could be dropped down like a shutter over each eye, thus completing its protection from insects and formidable foes."

TODAY 20 YEARS AGO

Egbert and Andrew L. Stone purchased 1500 acres of water front land on San Leandro Bay in Bay Farm Island and near Pittsburg, and start reclamation activities.

TRIBUNE editorial, "The Status of the Automobile" says in part: "So much has been written about the automobile that several large wagon manufacturing concerns have been induced to spend considerable money for expert reports on the new vehicle. The reports received have not been of such a character as to cause any alteration in the manufacturers' methods of doing business and wagons are being turned out in one customary quantity just as if the horseless carriage were not in existence."

"The fact is that the automobile is still in the experimental stage so far as its general use is concerned. (Electric automobiles) is not and cannot be anywhere a popular vehicle under present conditions. As for the gasoline and steam automobiles, their odor is unbearable and one must be an expert mechanic even to operate the gasoline machine. In time all these machines may be simplified and will be generally used, when their hill-climbing and weight-carrying powers are increased, but that day is not yet here."

HAS LOST ITS LURE.
A Presidential straw ballot had just been taken at Princeton University by the college daily. The total vote cast was 1261, of which Woodrow Wilson received only eight.

Mr. Wilson is a graduate of Princeton, served for some years as a member of its faculty and later became its president, and yet there are only eight persons now connected with the university, either as teachers or students, who favor his renomination as President of the United States. We could have no better proof of his diminished prestige.

The Princeton poll shows Herbert Hoover well in the lead, with 551 votes; General Wood is second with 441. On the Democratic side Mr. McAdoo has just three times as many as his distinguished father-in-law. The Wilson legend has lost its lure.—Princeton Journal.

PREFERRED LIST COMPLETED FOR SCHOOL TEACHERS

Completion of the preferred list of teachers in the Oakland public schools, from which vacancies during the coming year will be filled, was effected by the board of education last night with the adoption of lists of teachers for the seventh and eighth elementary grades, the high schools and the junior high schools. The question of the merit system and the preferred list plan passed through last night's meeting without causing a ripple, although the consideration of the issue at the last board meeting resulted in a stormy session when Director Fred A. Campbell attacked the plan on the ground that greater preference should be given California teachers. The other board members at that time supported Superintendent of Schools Fred M. Hunter in his plea for the continuance of the merit system. Campbell's only protest last night was a vote against those teachers on the completed list named from parts of the country outside of California.

Among the 201 high school and junior high school teachers on the list, twenty-five from Oakland and the bay region, and the rest from other parts of the state. After considerable discussion of the merits of the project in comparison with the necessity for other work already pledged in the same fund, the board last night voted to appropriate $20,000 from the special county building fund for the erection of the first unit of a new Crocker-Highland school, provided the money is available after prior pledges are kept for the Dewey and Stonehurst schools and the Lincoln school auditorium.

An appeal for first consideration for the Crocker-Highland school was led by Director J. Loran Pease, who declared that the work is more needed than the Lincoln school auditorium, and who asked that the Crocker-Highland plan be given an equal footing with the other projects planned in the fund. His motion making the pledge was amended, however, placing the project fourth on the list. A site for the new school is to be secured through condemnation proceedings already ordered.

In order to protect the department on its insurance a resolution was adopted by the board last night directing Secretary Lloyd D. Barzee to secure endorsements to all fire insurance policies on the school buildings, permitting the making of additions, alterations, improvements and repairs planned under the bond issue on old buildings.

More than half the newspapers of the world are printed in English.

WOMAN AGAIN ASKS DIVORCE IN NOTED CASE

Mrs. Alta Dominguez Johnson, plaintiff in the noted divorce case, has filed a new suit for divorce against C. A. Johnson, charging cruelty, following the trial of a previous action, after which she was denied a decree because of lack of corroboration.

Johnson, who separated from her husband several months ago, charges in the present suit that Johnson came to her home ten days ago and abused her so that Jose Gutierrez, a neighbor, interfered, when Johnson drew a knife and attempted to stab Olivas. She called the police, she says, and the next morning at court Judge discharged Olivas, rebuked Johnson and ordered him to stay away from his wife's home.

The possibility of further legal proceedings in connection with the recall movement against Commissioners Frederick Soderberg, W. H. Edwards and F. F. Morse was verted this morning when City Clerk Lon W. Cummings acceded to demands of the citizens' recall committee that they be allowed to look at the petitions rejected as insufficient by Cummings.

Following the filing yesterday afternoon of a formal demand by L. C. Fraser, chairman of the committee, with a statement that failure on the part of Cummings would probably result in a criminal action, the committee was notified this morning by Cummings that the petitions would be open to their inspection.

Members of the committee at once commenced an investigation of the documents to determine the exact reason for the rejection of the petitions. Cummings previously announced that the rejected petitions would not become public property until either certified as sufficient or returned with a final rejection to the committee.

VOLLMER TALKS AT CONVENTION OF POLICE CHIEFS

DETROIT, Mich., June 8.—Reaction from the war and present-day criminal procedure were held responsible for the recent increase in crime by August Vollmer, Berkeley chief of police, who addressed the convention of international Police Chiefs here today. Effects of the war on crime, Vollmer said, will be noted in all countries for at least ten years.

Criminal procedure, Vollmer said, in an address which also called for a raising of standards in patrolmen, was fifty years behind the times, although criminology had made rapid strides forward. New York, Atlanta, Colorado Springs and Jacksonville, Fla., are seeking the 1921 convention. "Each city is entitled to have a police force recruited from the best men who apply for such service," said Vollmer, who continued: "An effort should be made to obtain men who are capable, honest, active in mind and body, industrious, cool headed, actuated by sentiments of humanity and kindness, well educated, experienced in dealing with men, women and children, able to solve difficult problems quickly and promptly to act on decisions formed on the basis of practical common sense and sound judgment. Such a police force can be had in any American city that is willing to pay the price, which need not be beyond reason, and that is willing to discontinue absolutely all political or social preferment in making appointments."

Formerly when defective individuals could not secure employment in the industrial field and were unable to float successfully on the sea of life, their friends and relatives induced politicians to provide berths for them in the police department. It was that type of policeman who was largely responsible for most of the criticism of the American police.

A cure for police inefficiency is better pay and a more practical method for the selection of policemen. Vollmer presented the police chiefs with a plan for examining candidates for police forces and commented on the same to show that many exceptions should be made to allow the inclusion in the forces of men who possess special requirements. In a general way he showed a plan similar to the army test that he used here and called tonight a system worked out by Dr. Jan Don Ball of Oakland.

MISSION SOCIETY CELEBRATES. BERKELEY, June 8.—The Woman's Home Mission Society of Trinity Methodist Episcopal church will celebrate the fortieth anniversary of the organization tonight at the home of Mrs. C. E. Sweetman, 2823 Benvenue avenue. Men of the church will be special guests at the festivities.

"Too Beautiful," Wife Says; She Seeks Divorce

REATHA WATSON, the "Too beautiful" girl, once the bride of an Oakland man, who is being sued for divorce at Hollywood.

Reatha Watson, one time central figure in an Oakland elopement and celebrated in San Francisco, Oakland and Los Angeles for her declaration that she was "too beautiful" to live in a large city, has again placed her public life in the spotlight and is not one whit abashed. The "too beautiful" one is having no end of trouble concerning an automobile and a husband down in Hollywood, where she went shortly after her separation from Phil Ainsworth of this city. The present husband, who is suing her for divorce, is Ben Deely who says that recent life with "Too Beautiful" has been too strenuous.

Five weeks ago Ben and Too Beautiful agreed to disagree. According to the story he has told the court at Venice, Too Beautiful took his money and left him an automobile. Then, when he desired cash, she bought the car, paid him $100 and promised $100 more. As the second payment was not made, Ben says he took the car one day when he found it outside the "Ship" at Venice. Too Beautiful pursued and had him arrested.

"It was a good start but the finish was a burn," admitted Ben. So far Too Beautiful has been close behind Ben in all of his court actions. Nevertheless, says the husband, he will charge desertion. DANCER IN OAKLAND. It was back in 1917 that Too Beautiful was dancing in a Los Angeles cafe. Taking a few days off she came to Oakland, where she appeared in an entertainment at a restaurant and where she met Phil Ainsworth and married him within a week. She told her new husband that she had a car which was at his disposal and Phil took a ride which almost landed him in jail. One Robert Carville, it was, who swore out a warrant charging that the car of Too Beautiful was his. The case had no end of snafus and hard knocks and a San Francisco judge threw it

STATE BANKERS WILL CONVEENE AT LAKE TAHOE

LAKE TAHOE, June 8.—With the annual meeting of the California Bankers' Association at Lake Tahoe but two days away, bankers and business men from all parts of California and Nevada are arriving here hourly to be on hand to greet others who come in later.

Already reservations have been made for more than the expected number. Those who have already arrived here are intensely interested in the coming meeting. Some state that matters of vital importance to the State of California will be brought before the bankers for discussion and action. Three full days with business and pleasure combined are promised the attendees. A full supply of cash and a variety of pleasures are on hand. The final event will be a dinner dance at Lake Tahoe.

out of court. Too Beautiful went back to the south. KIDNAPED AT 16. Back in 1913 Too Beautiful first made her bid for public attention. She was kidnaped at the age of 16 years, she said, but somehow the kidnapers released and she returned to her home. Then a cave man grabbed her and took her to Arizona, where she married him and lived happily for two months. At least this was the story she told when she appeared before her friends with the announcement that she was a widow.

On June 2, 1914, she married "Max Lawrence," who proved to be Lawrence F. Converse. Mrs. Converse didn't like the arrangement and had Lawrence arrested as a bigamist. In court he pleaded that the beauty of the girl had made him a victim of matrimonial asphyxia. Too Beautiful is only 23 years old.

LOS ANGELES, June 8.—Richard Andrews, a five-year-old visitor from Nevada, exhausted all the amusements at Redondo Beach, near here, yesterday, and closed his program of sports with a 300-foot dive to the sea through a sewer two feet in diameter. He slipped into a swimming pool just as it was being drained and was caught by the stiff current. His Grove 409 Pine street, Daniel Tamo, 2842 Poloma, and Elias Soddalla, 829 Rhode Island street, were cut by glass about the head and face today when an automobile stage driven by Joseph Juisti, 228 San Augustine avenue, hit a street car at Arm and Valencia streets.

The bus was on route from San Jose when the collision occurred. The injured were taken to a nearby hospital.

IDENTIFY VICTIM

She had been visiting relatives in Oakland. Mrs. Sylvester identified the body late yesterday afternoon.

TWO MORE HURT

Lodge Outlines Tasks Before Republican Party

democratic one, completely opposite the President, demonstrated again the pretension of the league that it was open and for all and that its doctrine was beyond any interference by any party or any foreign power and which refused our consent to the cruel wrong of Shanghai.

INQUALITY IN VOTING.
We also made it impossible to elect the United States to the proposed inequality in voting power, for we profoundly believed that the United States must never take part in any council of the nations where her vote was not equal to that of any other power represented. Some of the things we have done are:

There ought to be no league at all and that absolute safety could be obtained in no other way. Others of us, more numerous, believed that the reservations I have described would be the basis of a new league, one that would be a real league, one that would be a real league, one that would be a real league.

STILL ANOTHER EFFORT.
The Republicans of the Senate then made another effort to put an end to the state of technical war with Germany and at the same time rid the country of those measures which were adopted under the war powers of the constitution and which are clearly unconstitutional in their nature. This is a most timely and necessary effort.

PHYSICIAN DECORATED.
CHICAGO, June 8.—Dr. C. H. Mayo of Rochester, Minn., has received the distinguished service medal. It was pinned on him by Major General Wood.

Sir Christopher Wren designed more than 60 churches.

keep safe and untouched the sovereignty, the independence, the welfare of the United States. We hear the loud cry that America will be isolated. Have no fear. The United States cannot be isolated. The world needs far too much. We have never turned a deaf ear to the cry of suffering humanity, but whatever we do must be done in our own way, freely and without constraint from abroad. With no outside help since the Revolution we have come to where we are today. We shall march on and we neglect our duty to the world. When we were called to the defense of freedom and civilization in 1917 we did not fail. We threw our great weight into the wavering scale and we were all the more effective, all the stronger because we went with out alliance and of our own free will, as we should always do to help mankind. Let us stand fast by the principles and policies of Washington and Monroe and against—utterly against—those of Mr. Wilson. We must be now and ever for Americanism and nationalism, and against internationalism.

END OF THE STORY.
There the story ends. We have followed Mr. Wilson's treaty and the question goes to the people. In 1918 Mr. Wilson won on the cry that he had kept us out of war. He now demands the approval of the American people for his party and his administration on the ground that he has kept us out of peace.

We of the Senate believe that we have performed a high and patriotic duty and we ask you, representatives of the Republican party, to approve our course and stand by what we believe.

NO POLITICAL EXPEDIENT.
There is no word more before I close during all the tedious weeks and months of the protracted struggle to save America from what we considered to be the dire perils lurking in the covenant of the league of nations, which Mr. Wilson presented to us, party was scarcely ever mentioned, nor was the effect of our action upon the party considered. To this spirit I think our success was largely due. We made up our minds as to what our duty and our general policy ought to be and then the only difference was as to the best way in which that duty could be performed. I believe that the great party which we represent here today has made up its mind as to its attitude upon Mr. Wilson's league and all that is carried with it of danger and of menace. In making our contest before the people let us think of what the public interest, the future existence of the United States, demand without any consideration of party effect. When we put the word "gold" into our platform in 1896 we took from the ordinary political point of view great risks but we went in the people confident in the justice of our cause and won. The way to assure victory now is to remember always that Mr. Wilson and his party threaten not only in the league but in regard to the very foundations of our government. Let us for our part think of nothing except our cause and with that great end clear before us let us behold with indifference the lesser chances and inferior hopes meantime go pouring past.

SHIFING SCENES IN EUROPE.
The shifting scene in Europe, with its wars and disputes, its changing governments and fleeting boundaries, which we are asked to guarantee, will instruct the people from day to day, and we confidently leave the future and the protection of their sons and brothers and of the country's rights in their hands. That future no man can predict but the country knows well in what spirit the Republicans will meet it as a spirit as free as that of the President. We are asked to guarantee as day from night. The people know our policy, they know Mr. Wilson's, and they will choose between them. They will tear aside the veil of words woven to blind and deceive and come down to the essential and vital point—Mr. Wilson's plan on one side, the independence and safety of the United States on the other, to determine which is the right, involving the fate and fortunes of the United States, all Republicans, all Americans, must join together and in their own and with own arguments defeat Mr. Wilson's league as a betrayal of the American people as a betrayal of the American people as a betrayal of the American people.

Memories of 60 Years Ago Recalled by G.O.P. Convention

CHICAGO, June 8.—At the first Republican national convention held in Chicago, sixty years ago.

An Iowa delegate walked 150 miles to get to a railroad to come to the convention.

Special railroad rates were made and Chicago's population probably doubled in convention week.

Hotel rooms were $1.50 to $2.50 a day.

Crowds were so great that billiard tables in the hotels were pressed into service as beds.

The "Wigwag" in which the convention was held was probably the largest of its kind in the world.

The Wigwag's profuse decorations were largely furnished by the Republican women of Chicago.

They were invited to come "armed and equipped with those formidable weapons, needles, thimbles, scissors, etc., etc."

When a special train pulled in with the Massachusetts and other New England delegates, rockets were sent up and a cannon boomed to announce their arrival to waiting friends.

The gallery in the convention hall was reserved for women and their escorts. Because of the great number of men unable to get in, one man was reported trying to get into the gallery with an Indian squaw selling moccasins as his credentials, but was excluded on the ground that she was no lady.

The two chief nominating speeches were made in less than thirty words.

The making of the presidential nomination was announced to the crowd by the firing of a cannon placed on the roof of the convention hall.

That night cannon and rockets were fired, bonfires lighted, and multitudinous parades formed, their participants carrying anything that would serve—even to rakes and fishing poles.

The foregoing data was obtained from the library of the Chicago Historical Society, which has various relics of the convention and the campaign that followed.

S.F. Catholics Honor Archbishop Mannix

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—San Francisco's welcome to the Most Rev. Daniel J. Mannix, D. D., Archbishop of Melbourne, who arrived here yesterday from Australia on the liner Ventura en route to Rome, will culminate tonight in a mass meeting to be staged at Presidio Park.

WOMEN ACTIVE AT G.O.P. CONCLAVE

By MARY GARRETT HAY.
Written for the United Press.

CHICAGO, June 8.—My conference with Republican women here has impressed me with their earnestness, their interest in and for the Republican party and their desire to work for its advancement. But beneath this is the unanimous opinion unmistakably voiced that women should be recognized in the councils of the party and should receive equal representation.

My most significant and outstanding impression here is of women as an active factor in politics. I was a tour of the state and candidates' headquarters last evening and the number of women I saw, not merely as curious onlookers, but actively interested workers, nearly, if not quite equaled the men. At least half of presidential row this year is occupied by women's headquarters.

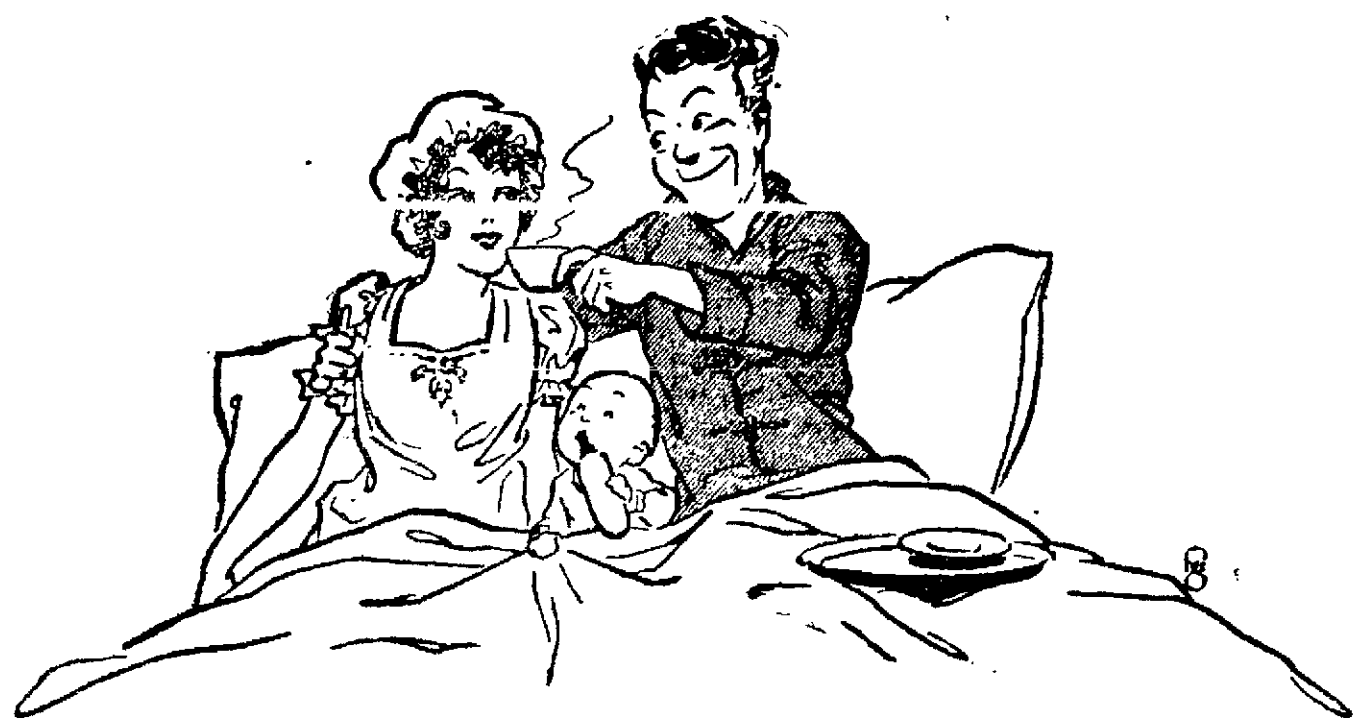

Men and women alike swarm in and out of political headquarters this year. It has been customary in the past for women in limited numbers to "look in." But never before have they been in such evidence, or held positions of such importance.

They are getting different treatment now with nation-wide suffrage in sight. They seem to count just as much as men. Having a vote to back up their opinions has made all the difference in the world.

Our platform and policies committee has taken the advice of the women workers who know what women want, and I am confident the platform will be what the women desire.

McAdoo Goes East; State Visit at End

SACRAMENTO, June 8.—William G. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury, accompanied by Mrs. McAdoo, passed through Sacramento on his way east from Santa Barbara, Thomas Fox, Sacramento postmaster, who, with others, greeted the former secretary, said politics was not discussed.

Wings of the morning!

Every family in this blessed country of ours has a right to its good cup of coffee for breakfast—and you might just as well have it; for it costs no more than ordinary coffee.

Not a bit more—we mean it. For fine coffee has flavor and strength and power. You don't need to use nearly so much coffee to a cup.

The way to get this satisfying and economical coffee is to buy one of the two or three really fine coffees in vacuum-sealed tins, which keep all the flavor in until it gets to you.

"Which coffee will I like best?"

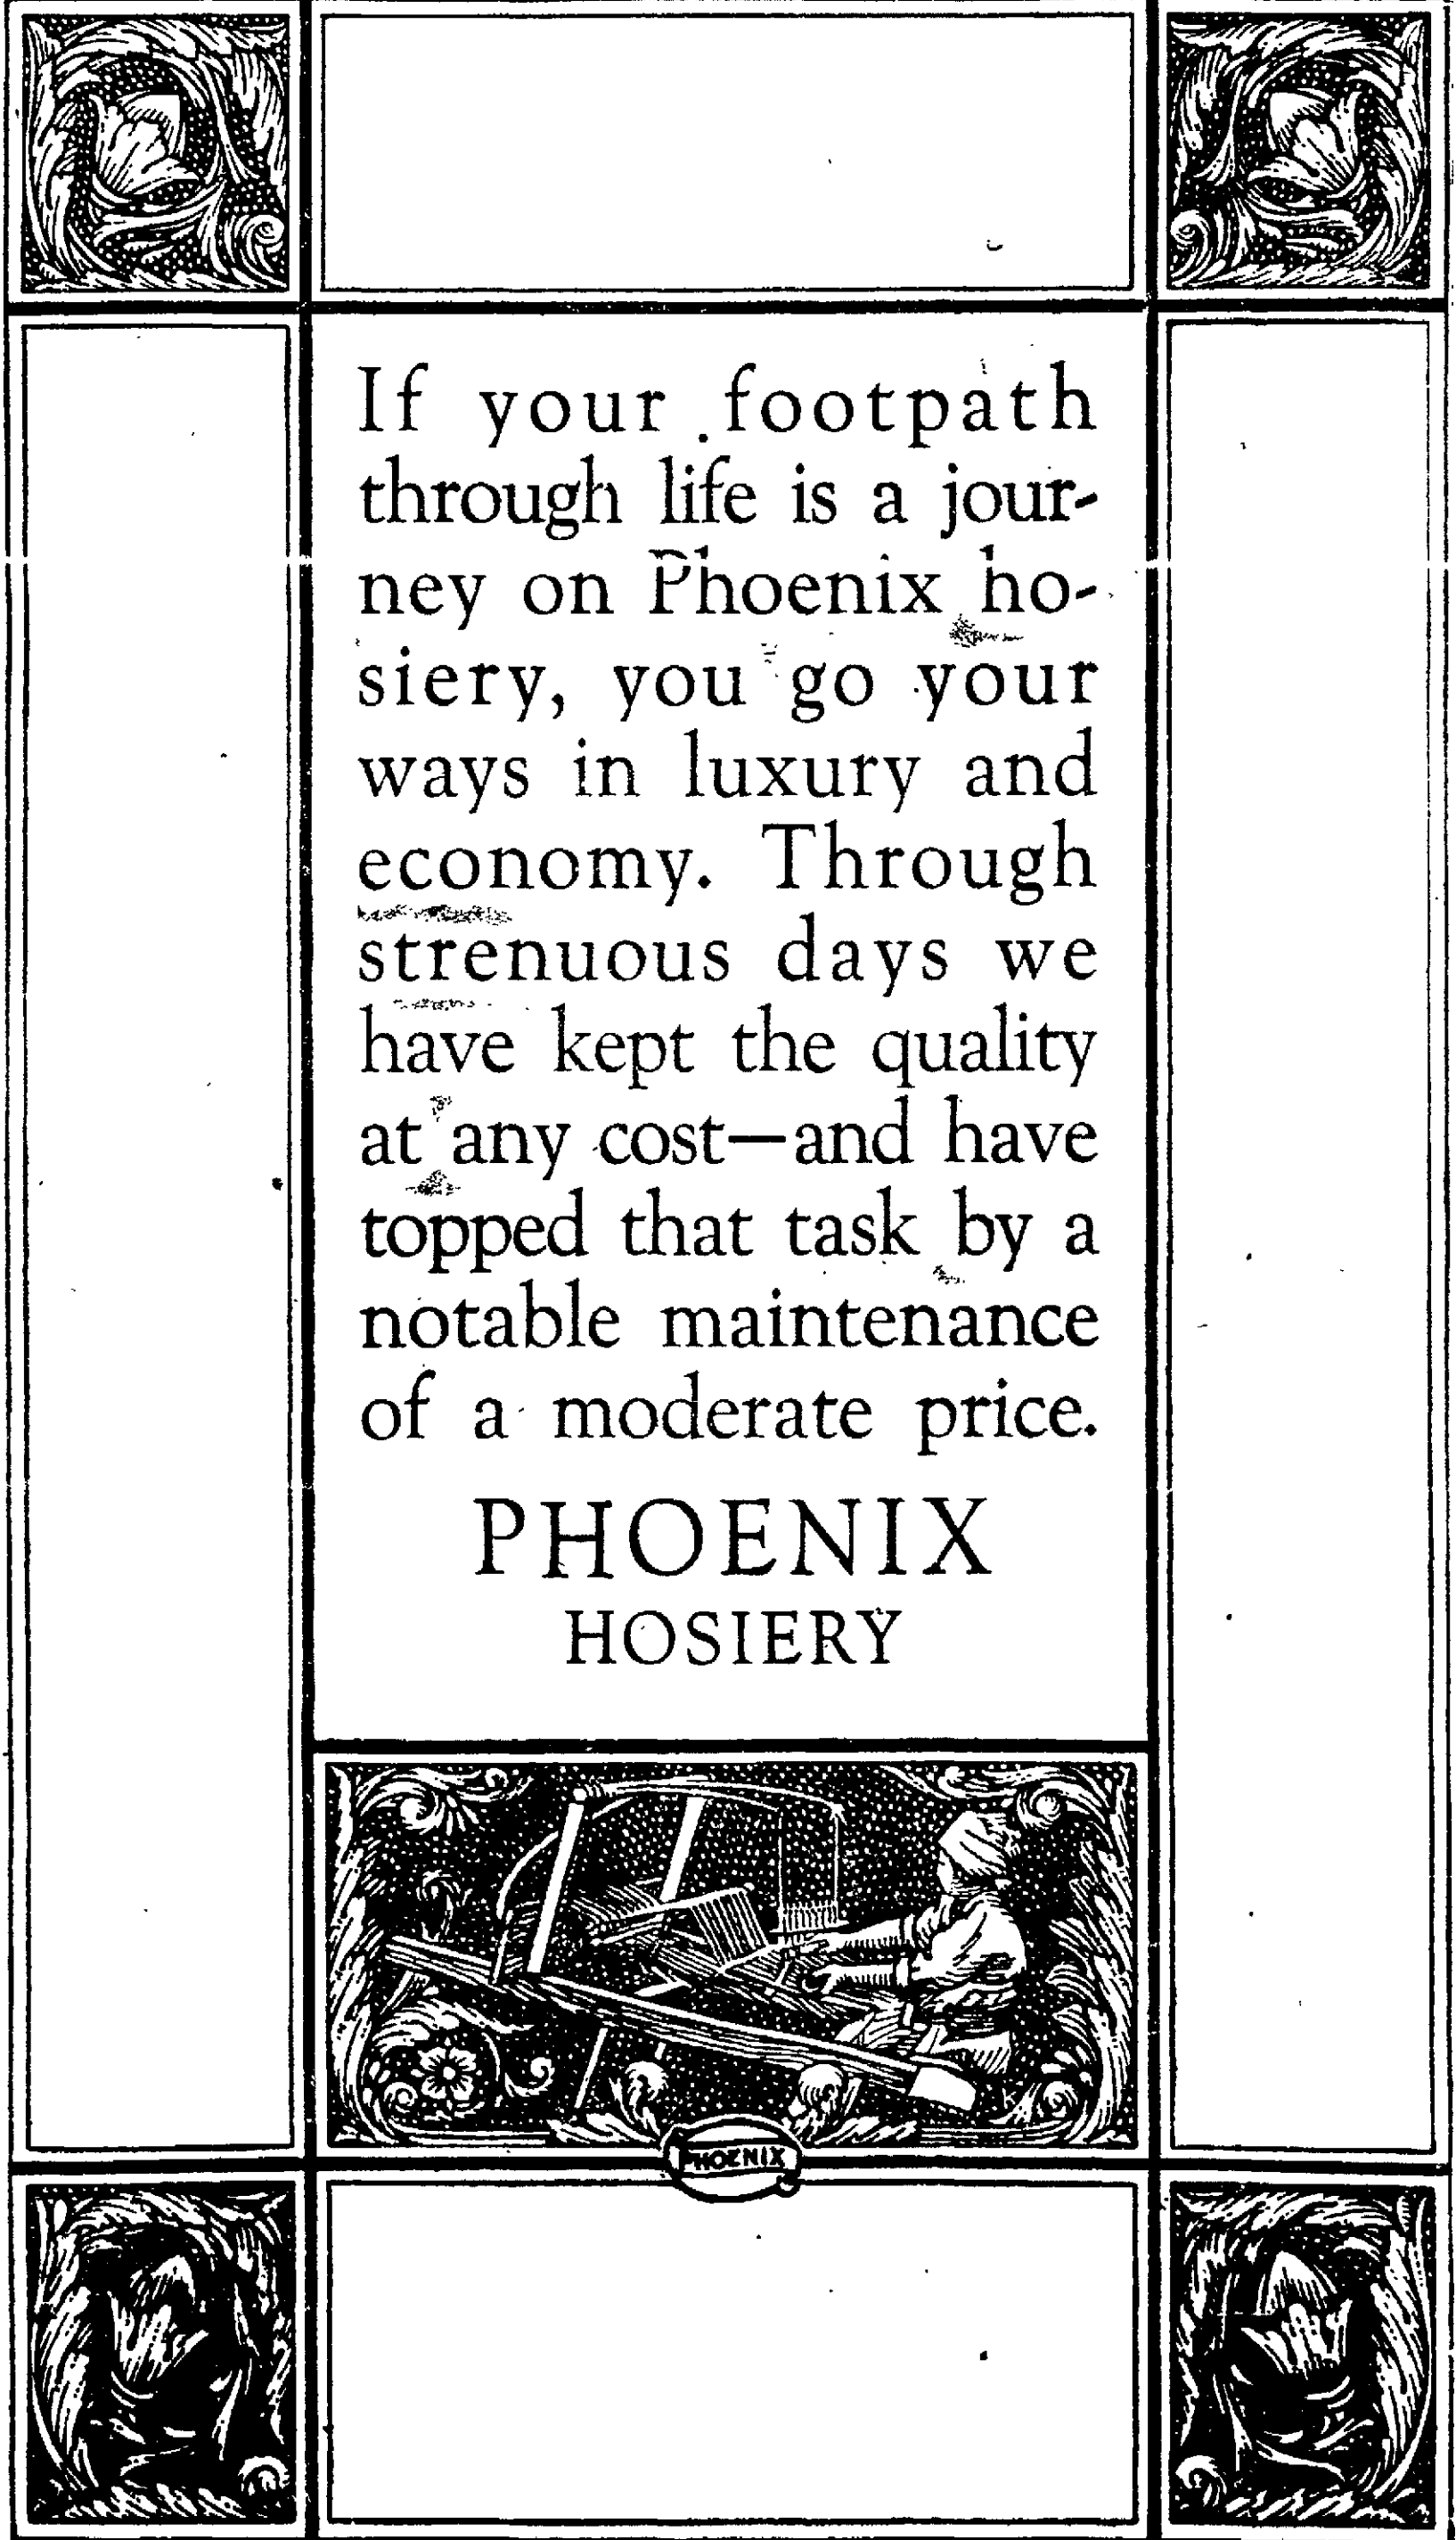

Try them all. Your money back—at your grocer's—if you don't like Schilling's. We pay him.

NIGHT SCHOOLS DEPEND ON LEVIES

What disposition can be made during the coming year of the night school problem will depend upon what tax levies are made by the city and county officials for the fiscal year, according to statements made yesterday by Board of Education officials in connection with continued efforts by a committee of night school pupils to have all courses maintained.

Assistant Superintendent of Schools Lewis B. Avery, who is in charge of that division of the school system, said that he is planning to have some of the night classes organized on a long-term basis during the coming semester, and others on a short-term basis, which will allow courses to be represented. If that plan is carried out, according to Avery, some of the most essential courses will be carried through the year as at present and those courses considered least essential will be short period classes.

The night schools have not been closed, Secretary Lloyd D. Bazarre stated this morning in reply to the continued campaign of the students' committee before the state school heads to have the high schools taken over by the Chamber of Commerce or the University of California extension division.

The night courses considered least essential were discontinued last year, but were permitted to continue as independent classes until on a self-sustaining basis, using rooms and paying for the teachers themselves. The essential courses are still open.

In her suit Mrs. Hughes alleged that she only married Hughes after he had proposed to her fifty times and finally told her she would ruin his chances of becoming United States Senator if she would not become his wife.

'CLARENCE' IS HIT AT YE LIBERTY

Booth Tarkington's comedy of "Clarence" came to Ye Liberty theater last night for an engagement of half a week, and really pleased a large audience beyond expectations. In fact it is the opinion of those who know the theater that "Clarence" is the best play of the lighter sort that has come to Oakland in the present season.

Clarence (played by Robert Adams) is a demobilized soldier, quiet and mysterious. He is in search of a job—any kind of a job—and finally finds employment in the home of a certain rich man, Mr. Wheeler (Byron Beale) who has an obstreperous family. It is within this little world of turmoil that Clarence's activities begin, and he proves himself eventually master of every situation.

No less important are the rich man's two children, Bobby (supposed to be 18 (played by Gregory Kelly)) and Cora, the well spoiled darling daughter of 16 (played by Ruth Gordon). They have a step-mother (played by Betty Murray). She creates another point of irritation in the dramatic friction which Clarence confronts. In fact the crafty ex-soldier soothes them all. Everybody in the company was to know who Clarence really is. And so does everybody in the audience. But he keeps the secret until near the end of the last act. And then when he lets them know that he is a distinguished man of science he at the same time lets them know that he intends to marry the governess and does it.

Millions of Dollars for Uniformity

LISTEN sometime when motorists are talking about their tire records.

You will hear as many varied experiences as there are men to tell them.

Some dealers offer the tire user an allowance to "square" the tire that didn't come through.

But car owners are beginning to look upon allowances as a symptom of something wrong rather than a remedy.

In 1903 one of the factories of the United States Rubber Company laid the foundation for saving millions of dollars annually to car owners by building the first automobile cord tire ever made in America.

From then on it took to itself a heavier responsibility measured both in money and judgment than the tire world had put upon anybody.

First in building the cord tire the United States Rubber Company was likewise first—and alone—in bringing to its manufacture a uniformity standard that takes every U. S. Royal Cord out of the limited mileage class.

The United States Rubber Company operates the only cord fabric mill, owned by any tire manufacturer anywhere—designed, built and equipped by this company for the spinning and weaving of cord tire fabric, and for nothing else.

It is the only maker of tires that produces its own plantation rubber in adequate quantities—rubber identical in quality pound after pound.

The cord principle is the greatest of all fundamental tire economies.

Today anybody can make cord tires. But having the cord idea and delivering the physical service of that idea are two entirely different things.

Sale—our first in 10 years

AT THIS PARTICULAR MOMENT WHEN THE HIGHEST FINANCIAL AUTHORITIES POINT OUT THE PROBABILITY OF STILL HIGHER PRICES, WE ANNOUNCE THESE REDUCTIONS FOR TWO GOOD AND SUBSTANTIAL REASONS—

1st--- WE WANT TO DO OUR DUTY IN SHARING WITH THE PUBLIC THE BURDEN OF HIGH PRICES BY A SACRIFICE OF PROFITS.

2nd--- IT IS A MATTER OF BUSINESS! THIS IS A SELLING MOVEMENT TO REDUCE OUR SURPLUS STOCK.

WE HAVE OVER-ESTIMATED THE PUBLIC DEMAND AND AS A RESULT WE FIND OURSELVES OVERLOADED WITH EXCESSIVE STOCKS OF MERCHANDISE BECAUSE WE TRIED TO PROTECT OUR CUSTOMERS AND OURSELVES. WE THEREFORE

OFFER YOU A CHOICE OF OUR
